INFORMATION SHEET - HEARING

What will happen at the hearing?

Most hearings will be conducted by a panel of three expert members.

The panel will read the documents NCAT has been given and will listen to what the person the application is about, the applicant and other parties have to say about the application. At the end of the hearing the panel will make a legally binding decision and will give reasons for their decision.

Right to representation

Hearings are conducted informally and usually parties do not have lawyers representing them.

If you want another person to represent you at the hearing you need to ask NCAT for permission. Your request to be represented by a lawyer or an agent must be in writing and should be received at least 5 working days before the hearing. You should include your reasons for asking for representation. NCAT will make a decision about your request before the hearing or at the beginning of the hearing.

Separate Representation

A separate representative is a person who is usually a lawyer appointed by NCAT to represent the interests of the person the application is about.

For more information about representation go to the NCAT website and read the NCAT Fact Sheets on 'Representation at the hearing' and 'Separate representation'.

What if you cannot attend the hearing in person?

If you cannot attend the hearing in person you can join the hearing by video/telephone. Before the hearing day you must tell the NCAT Registry how you will join the hearing.

Make sure you have all the material that NCAT is going to consider at the hearing

Before the hearing you should receive a hearing report from NCAT which summarises what the case is about and lists the material it has received from the parties. You should check the list and make sure you have all the documents.

If the documents were sent to you by NCAT and you haven't received something listed on the hearing report you should contact the NCAT registry immediately.

If you haven't received something that another party has been directed to give to you, you should ask the party immediately for a copy.

You should bring your copies to the hearing.

Prepare what you are going to say to the panel

You should read through all the material that has been given about the case and prepare what, if anything, you want to say about it. You should keep to the things that NCAT needs to decide about the application it is hearing. If you are unsure what is relevant go to the NCAT website and read the NCAT Fact Sheets on "What we have to decide".

If you are the applicant and do not want to continue with the application

Go to the NCAT website and download the "Request to withdraw a Guardianship Division application" form. This form should be completed if you are the applicant and think there is no longer a reason for the application to be heard by NCAT. You will need to give a reason why you say the order is no longer needed.

Applications can only be withdrawn with the permission of NCAT.

Outcome of the hearing

Usually the panel will tell you their decision at the end of the hearing. They will then send written reasons for the decision to the parties. Sometimes the decision will not be made on the day and it will be sent to you at a later time.
