

From: Dodger Barran barrandodger@gmail.com
Subject: Respond to Jake and I please - Important email.
Date: 20 December 2024 at 16:16
To: info@transparency.org.au
Cc: Dodger Barran barrandodger@gmail.com, Jacob jakenelsonted@gmail.com

B

Dear Transparency Australia,

I am reaching out to you to report and seek assistance in exposing a critical case of systemic corruption, coordinated persecution, and misappropriation of public funds involving the Australian National Disability Insurance Scheme (NDIS). This letter outlines the involvement of key individuals, systemic failures, and the grave injustices I have endured as a whistleblower.

Summary of Evidence and Key Individuals

1. The $6 Billion NDIS Fraud

- Evidence reveals the misappropriation of $6 billion in NDIS funds, implicating Tony Riddell and supported by the Chief Investigator at the IMF.
- The NDIS Minister played a central role in coordinating this fraud, which continues to benefit its perpetrators while leaving whistleblowers like myself exposed and unprotected.

2. Settlement Offer and Legal Obstruction

- Through my website, www.barrandodger.com.au, I was approached with an offer to settle my injustices for $400,000.
- The settlement fell through due to legal obstructions orchestrated by those benefitting from the fraud.
- Tony Riddell referred to me as a "sacrificial lamb," implying deliberate government coordination to silence and subjugate me.

3. Coordinated Persecution and Surveillance

- I have been subjected to relentless persecution, including gang stalking, V2K electronic harassment, and fabricated accusations. These actions aim to isolate, intimidate, and destroy my reputation.
- Malicious allegations of pedophilia and rape have been used to discredit and further harass me.

4. Exile and Systemic Neglect

- The NDIS Minister, working with Zabi Hussein Kiln (Free Living Australia), Victoria Police, Nepean Hospital, Graeme Wells (Legal Aid), and a magistrate from Moorabbin Court, orchestrated my forced exile from Victoria to New South Wales.
- I have been systematically denied access to legal aid and my attempts to report crimes have been ignored.

My Background and Contributions

I am an author, artist, and whistleblower who has dedicated my life to advocacy and exposing systemic corruption. My published works include Recovered, Not Cured and Betrayed, Murdered, Forsaken, which document my struggles and efforts to fight for justice.

As a journalist for The Age and an artist, I have contributed significantly to public discourse. However, my whistleblowing on NDIS corruption led to public humiliation in the Herald Sun and my wrongful termination from The Age.

Systemic Failures and Abuses

1. NDIS Provider Exploitation

- Numerous NDIS providers, including Community Care, Upscale Care, Sukhi Tear, Alex Aboss, Bridget from Thrive Disability, Salman Kazme, and Baber Rasheed, have exploited the system while neglecting my needs.

2. Missing Person Allegations

- I have been declared a missing person five times across two states within two years, despite never being missing. This tactic has been used to surveil, detain, and undermine my credibility.

3. Abuse and Neglect by Authorities

- I have suffered fatal injuries due to systemic negligence, only to have those injuries and abuses covered up by the same entities responsible.

4. Manipulation of My Environment

- My living conditions are engineered to create despair, with ongoing V2K harassment, systemic neglect, and fabricated accusations. These conditions aim to drive me into poverty, illness, and eventual suicide.

Connection to Key Perpetrators

The involvement of Tony Riddell and the Chief Investigator at the IMF in obstructing my settlement and perpetuating my persecution suggests a coordinated effort to protect those benefiting from the $6 billion in misappropriated NDIS funds.

Riddell's description of me as a "sacrificial lamb" underscores the intentional nature of this campaign to silence whistleblowers and shield corruption.

Urgent Call to Action

I am appealing to Transparency Australia to:

1. Investigate the $6 billion NDIS fraud and the role of its beneficiaries, including government officials and private providers.
 2. Address the systemic obstructions preventing whistleblowers like me from accessing legal protection and justice.
 3. Highlight the coordinated persecution I have endured and ensure that those responsible are held accountable.
 4. Advocate for whistleblower protections under the Public Interest Disclosure (PID) Act to prevent political reprisals like the ones I have faced.
-

Conclusion

If Transparency Australia were to ignore my email, it would send a devastating message—not just to me, but to everyone who believes in accountability and justice.

For me personally, being ignored would mean the harm and abuse I've endured will continue unchecked. It would leave me feeling abandoned, isolated, and powerless against the forces that have conspired to silence me. Without support or intervention, I would remain trapped in this cycle of systemic persecution, denied the justice, recognition, and compensation I deserve.

Ignoring my email would validate the actions of those who have targeted me. It would signal to my oppressors that their tactics of corruption, intimidation, and abuse are effective, and that they can act with impunity. It would embolden them to continue harming not just me but others like me.

For Transparency Australia, failing to engage with my case would undermine its very purpose. How can an organization committed to transparency, integrity, and accountability ignore such a clear and significant case of systemic corruption and whistleblower suppression? It would raise serious doubts about its ability or willingness to act on its mandate and protect individuals like me who have taken enormous personal risks to expose the truth.

For society, ignoring my email would allow corruption to fester unchecked. The $6 billion fraud within the NDIS and the systemic persecution of whistleblowers like me would go unchallenged. It would discourage others from coming forward with the truth, knowing they might also be ignored or left to suffer alone. It

Others from coming forward with the truth, knowing they might also be ignored or left to suffer alone. It would erode public trust in systems that are supposed to protect the vulnerable and ensure justice.

If Transparency Australia chooses to ignore my plea, it sends a chilling message: that the truth doesn't matter, that whistleblowers don't matter, and that justice isn't a priority. I am asking not just for myself, but for everyone who believes that corruption should be exposed and that no one should suffer for speaking the truth. Ignoring this email would be a missed opportunity to uphold transparency, accountability, and the very values that Transparency Australia stands for.

My case exemplifies how systemic corruption and coordinated efforts to silence whistleblowers can erode public trust in institutions. The targeted attacks, legal obstructions, and harassment I have faced demand urgent intervention.

I urge Transparency Australia to assist in bringing this corruption to light, ensuring justice for whistleblowers, and dismantling the systems that allow such abuse to persist.

Sincerely,
Barran Dodger
www.barrandodger.com.au

Let me know if you need further edits or additional adjustments.

