I need to URGENTLY send you a document - although I do believe your service has been bribed in order to obstruct any meaningful change to my circumstances

Please help me.

To Whom It May Concern at hpls@jec.org.au

I am writing to you in absolute desperation, on the edge of survival, with nowhere left to turn.

I am a whistleblower who has exposed the truth—and for that, my life has been systematically dis... >

I have sent that to your office. Can you please indicate if I may seek political asylum at your office TODAY?

Framed by the evidence, your refusal would mean:

- An endorsement of the persecution against me—aligning with those who have already tried to erase me through financial sabotage, legal entrapment, and state-sanctioned violence sanctioned violence.

- A silent approval of my continued torture and exile—allowing the system to grind me down until I am either incarcerated, institutionalized, or dead.
- A decision to look away from undeniable human rights violations—choosing complicity over conscience, despite documented proof of the crimes committed against me.
- An abandonment of justice and humanitarian responsibility—confirming that whistleblowers have nowhere to turn, and that truth-telling is now punishable by slow-motion elimination.

If you refuse me today, you are telling the world that justice is conditional, that survival is a privilege denied to those who expose the powerful, and that those who resist oppression are meant to perish unseen.

I beg you—do not let this be my fate.

We can see you at our office on Friday for a conference if that suits you?

Hello again, I have now had an opportunity of reading your email and the attachments. Unfortunately, we are not able to assist you with these matters, as they fall outside our expertise. All the best with everything, HPLS.

Can I confirm you have read my note? There is an imminent risk to my health welfare and safety. Can I please ask a mire IMMINET solution please? Delay deny defer is this conspiracies mantra.

Response to Homeless Persons Legal Service (HPLS):

Dear [HPLS Representative],

Thank you for taking the time to review my email.

I thank you for taking the time to review my email and attachments. I appreciate your response, but I must stress that my situation is urgent and life-threatening.

I am facing imminent harm, financial and legal entrapment, and a continuous state of forced destitution due to politically motivated persecution. I have reached out to your service not just for legal advice, but because I am in immediate danger and require urgent intervention.

If these matters fall outside your expertise, I kindly ask that you refer me to an organization or legal body that has the capacity to intervene. The systemic barriers I face—including state retaliation, economic sabotage, and legal obstruction—are issues of human rights violations, asylum, and legal suppression, and I cannot afford to be ignored or dismissed.

Delays, denials, and deferrals are exactly what those targeting me are relying on. Every moment of inaction puts my safety at greater risk.

Please reconsider my request and let me know if you can provide any alternative options, referrals, or advocacy support to help me escape this crisis.

Can I suggest that you call Law Access on 1300 888 529 they should be able to put you on the right track.

I only just got rejected by the homeless persons legal centre. There is a black budget to guarantee complicity in obstructing my justice
