Dear Rich,

Re: Power of attorney and requests from Dr Rich McLean

We refer to the above and your emails dated 23 June 2023 and 24 June 2023 and confirm our earlier advice dated 23 June 2023, that we are unable to assist you with your matters.

After reviewing your emails and their attachments, we have determined the following:

1. You seek to bring a defamation claim against your former employers, The Herald Sun and The Age for reputational damage that occurred in or around 2004.

We do not practice in the area of defamation.

2. You seek to make a WorkSafe and/or ComCare claim for psychological injuries that occurred while working for The Herald Sun and/or The Age in or around 2004.

We do not practice in the area of work cover.

3. You seek to make a claim in respect of unpaid superannuation entitlements from in or around 2004.

We do not practice in the area of superannuation.

4. You seek to make claims against various other organisations, who were neither your employers nor your educational providers, that you believe have discriminated against you on the basis of your disability over many years.

We do not practice in areas of disability discrimination outside of employment and education.

5. You seek to make a disability discrimination claim against your former employers, The Age and/or The Herald Sun, on the basis that your employment was terminated on account of your disability in or around 2004.

Unfortunately, as the events took place in or around 2004, we are of the opinion that any application will be out of time and therefore does not have a proper basis.

The review of your various matters has determined that all these matters fall outside our scope of practice and therefore we are unable to assist you with them.

If you have any queries in relation to the above, please email us at aedlegal@aed.org.au or leave a voicemail message on (03) 9639 4333 with some convenient times for us to return your call.

Yours sincerely
